

Lord Berners (1883–1950) built Faringdon Folly in 1935. A brick structure in Gothic style, it was designed by the Duke of Wellington and Trenwith Mills. Lord Berners was a true eccentric who dabbled in music, writing and painting. Lord Berners also designed the cover for the 1939 Wiltshire Shell county guide, published by the Architectural Press.

Artist Lord Berners

Catalogue number 471

Date 1936

Series Visit Britain's Landmarks